

Welcome

In your small groups, share your reactions to the following prompt: If you were to write a letter to your 18-year-old self, what is one piece of advice you would give?

Focus on self-awareness and self-love. Develop a healthy relationship with yourself. After all, you are the person you will spend the most time with in this life.